

Catalogue of Mental Health Measures

NEWS & UPDATES

Winter 2022

What's new on the Catalogue?

New longitudinal study

We have added the Longitudinal Outcomes of Gender Identity in Children \(LOGIC\) study which follows a group of children and young people, who have been referred to the Gender Identity Development Service, and their families.

New measures

We have included measures of personality and temperament for all studies, along with their measures of mental health, wellbeing, and other related topics.

New features

Data from longitudinal studies are continuously contributing to our knowledge about mental health and wellbeing. We have now featured some impactful papers (that are open-access) from some of the studies on the Catalogue: NCDS, BCS70, Next Steps, MCS, ELSA, and E-Risk.

BCS70
1970 British Cohort Study

ncds
National Child Development Study

NEXT STEPS
LEARNING FROM YOUR GENERATION

ELSA
English Longitudinal Study of Ageing

E-RiSK
Environmental Risk Longitudinal Twin Study

CHILD OF THE NEW CENTURY

Upcoming Events

SPRING 2023

Keep an eye out for the next MQ-DATAMIND Data Science Meeting, which will be chaired from now on by our very own Louise!

Landscaping International Longitudinal Datasets

For the landscaping project funded by the Wellcome Trust, we have identified over 1,000 longitudinal datasets! Check out the full list of datasets, the blogs written by our team and partners, and more on our website: www.landscaping-longitudinal-research.com, which is updated weekly.

Please submit any longitudinal datasets you know by completing the website form or contacting us at landscaping-wellcome@kcl.ac.uk.

Some good news

We recently celebrated one year of being part of DATAMIND, the Health Data Research (HDR) UK hub for mental health, and leading their activities for Findable, Accessible, Interoperable, & Reusable (FAIR) curated mental health data.

